

MMI is a private non-profit organization whose mission is to develop inclusive communities and meaningful connections through employment and training. We engage in that mission by providing community-based services, creating greater awareness, fostering relationships, and breaking down barriers for people with disabilities.

MMI was developed in 1972 by a group of parents seeking opportunities for their adult children, gaining non-profit status in 1973. We began as a building-based activity center, adding various work services over time. Today, we offer a range of community-based services to support children, youth, and adults leading integrated and independent lives in their communities.

We are working with nearly 1000 people with disabilities in ten mid-Michigan counties. Our vision is to improve the quality of life for people who choose our programs and celebrate each person's uniqueness. All people should have the opportunity to participate and contribute to their community. MMI is a community leader, working with others to champion creative initiatives to improve the quality of life for people with disabilities. We see a world where everyone lives based on their own choices. We see a community that maximizes accessibility and inclusion.

By encouraging community members and businesses to invest time and resources, we can work together to make the necessary progress in creating a more inclusive society. It's important to note that while an inclusive group is, by definition, diverse, a diverse group isn't always inclusive. We will continue to support our communities to understand the true meaning of inclusion and why inclusive communities are stronger communities. Businesses and community members can expand their opportunities for growth by ensuring we are creating a more integrated, inclusive workforce and communities. MMI leads creative initiatives and innovative solutions to support people in achieving their employment goals. Individuals have an opportunity to explore their career interests and achieve their goals.

MMI is leading the way to inclusive communities.
